

Leading internationally

This 2-3 hour Change Dialogue aims at sharing challenges and experiences in “Leading Internationally”. By inviting our clients to this change dialogue we want to share our experience, show how we address current issues or latest topics of interest, and get their buy-in in our consulting experience on new trends.

We want to provide a platform where the clients:

- will share their way of leading in a global environment.
- will have the opportunity to get in contact with us and with other managers facing the same challenges.
- will see us acting on addressing hot topics in our consulting approach.

Leading internationally

Duration	2–3 hours
Target group	Managers and executives working in or targeting international business areas
Number of participants	Up to 24
Setting	Seminar room or meeting room with chairs in a circle or tables with up to 6 people per table
Typical audience	<ul style="list-style-type: none">– Managers of international companies– People working with remote and/or virtual teams– Change managers with diverse and remote teams– HR people who need to address remote and international leadership with their business managers
What you will learn	<ul style="list-style-type: none">– Contemporary approaches to global leadership people.– International companies approach.– Key challenges in international leadership.– Tendencies and challenges in global leadership development.– What have others said about collaborating globally.– Hints and tips on collaborating globally – the connection model.
Modes of working	<ul style="list-style-type: none">– Interactive exchange of participants– Dialogue in small groups and in plenary– Individual reflection